

The retrieval function for the NEWSAPI initially used the method for retrieving the top stories of a certain location. This method worked in my web browser but seemed to fail within the python environment with countries who returned news in non-English languages. Therefore, I altered the method to retrieve all/everything (all articles), and then made code that could filter this plus used a parameter to limit to 10 articles each time.